Dr. Byatt (DO, MS, MBA, FACLP) is the Medical Director of MCPAP for Moms and an Associate Professor of Psychiatry, Ob/Gyn, and Quantitative Health Sciences at the University of Massachusetts Medical School.

The MCPAP for Mom is a program that addresses postpartum depression as well as co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders. It was developed in 2014 and has been shown to be effective at improved outcomes and engagement of women needing services through different provider routes. The model is similar to CPAN except that the MCPAP for Mom is providing support to OB providers, pediatricians, and other primary care providers to diagnose and treat women with postpartum depression. The following link provides information about the program: <https://www.mcpapformoms.org/>.
